National Volunteer Week April 19-25, 2020

Dear Community Involvement Volunteers;

Re: National Volunteer Week – we could not achieve our shared goals without you

National Volunteer Week in Canada is celebrated the week of April 19-25 in 2020. I wish to celebrate you and congratulate you on the immense contributions you make that enrich the Salmonid Enhancement Program.

Your contributions to salmon enhancement, Pacific Streamkeepers and stewardship activities are invaluable to British Columbians and all Canadians. You create influence by volunteering in local projects close to our hearts. The power of volunteering is immense on many levels.

By participating in stewardship activities, your volunteer efforts help SEP support salmonid enhancement. Everyone gains through the projects you undertake and the goals you set for salmon protection and conservation.

SEP generates salmon and it builds upon the desire to have salmon be part of our world.

From everyone at Fisheries and Oceans Canada, thank you for your personal commitment. Thank you for sharing your time and energy to ensure we have salmon for generations to come.

Yours truly,

Adam Silverstein
